ABOUT VICTOR SCHÖNEMANN

As a Senior Domain Name Security Consultant, Victor helps Zacco clients to navigate increasingly complex domain security, and to protect their digital presence. An expert on critical infrastructure and online brand identity, he remains a key advisor to organisations in helping them to understand and mitigate the risk of evolving threats.

Victor has worked in the digital and technical space since 2011, amassing a comprehensive understanding of technical vulnerabilities, and their management. He specialises in core internet infrastructure, with extensive expertise in email security, SSL/TLS, automation, and DNS infrastructure. Victor's consultative approach and technical expertise ensures that he can provide practical advice and actionable insight on safeguards and best practice, protecting his client's digital assets while aligning them with broader business and security objectives.

Clients rely on Victor's ability to translate complex technical requirements into clear, actionable security strategies. From optimising domain infrastructure and mitigating risks associated with email security to develop and implementing incident response or compliance plans, his focus is always on creating resilient, long-term solutions.

Victor's background as both a technical specialist and dedicated client manager allows him to build strong, lasting partnerships where he provides clients with expert advice and technical peace of mind around their digital reputation. Victor's core specializations include DNS security, email authentication and delivery, SSL/TLS management, and the holistic protection of digital brand infrastructure.
