ABOUT ANDERS RØTHE JOHANNESSEN

Anders graduated University of Oslo in February 2022, completing the European Master's Programme on Society, Science and Technology. Throughout his studies, Anders focused on technology management, technology translations and mechanisms for technology development. The experiences gained from these studies are continually used to guide R&D companies in the world of Norwegian soft funding schemes.

Anders joined Zacco in April 2022 as an advisor in R&D funding and has since participated in funding schemes in Innovation Norway, The Research Council of Norway and Enova. He has thorough experience with interdisciplinary work and is eager to employ both professional and personal skills to contribute to project success.
